Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Interim Financial Statements

For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025

(Unaudited – Expressed in Canadian Dollars Unless Otherwise Noted)

1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS AND GOING CONCERN

Blue Sky Uranium Corp. (the “Company”) was incorporated under the Business Corporation Act of British Columbia on November 30, 2005 as Mulligan Capital Corp. On May 18, 2006, the Company received final receipts for a prospectus and became a reporting issuer in British Columbia and Alberta. On June 27, 2006 the Company completed its initial public offering and on June 28, 2006 the Company listed its common shares on the TSX Venture Exchange (the “TSX-V”) as a capital pool company. On February 7, 2007, the Company completed its qualifying transaction and was upgraded to Tier II status on the TSX-V. The Company also changed its name to Blue Sky Uranium Corp. to reflect its business as a junior uranium exploration company. The address of the Company’s registered office is Suite 411 – 837 West Hastings Street, Vancouver, BC, Canada V6C 3N6.

The Company is a natural resource company engaged in the acquisition and exploration of resource properties in Argentina. The Company’s mineral property interests presently have no proven or probable reserves and, on the basis of information to date, it has not yet determined whether these properties contain economically recoverable resources. Consequently, the Company considers itself to be an exploration stage company.

The amounts shown as mineral property interests represent acquisition costs incurred to date, less amounts amortized and/or written off, and do not necessarily represent present or future values. The underlying value of the mineral property interests is entirely dependent on the existence of economically recoverable reserves, securing and maintaining title and beneficial interest in the properties, the ability of the Company to obtain the necessary financing to advance the properties beyond the exploration stage, and the future profitability of the properties.

These condensed consolidated interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) applicable to consolidated financial statements and to a going concern, which assume that the Company will realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future.

The Company has experienced recurring operating losses and has an accumulated deficit of $64,164,827 and shareholders’ equity of $767,558 at June 30, 2026. In addition, the Company has a working capital of $94,250 at June 30, 2026 and negative cash flow from operating activities of $872,682. Working capital is defined as current assets less current liabilities and provides a measure of the Company’s ability to settle liabilities that are due within one year with assets that are also expected to be converted into cash within one year. These factors create material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. The Company’s continued operations, as intended, are dependent upon its ability to raise additional funding to meet its obligations and commitments and to attain profitable operations. Management’s plan in this regard is to raise equity financing as required. There are no assurances that the Company will be successful in achieving these goals.

The Company’s business may be affected by changes in political and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, changes in laws, tariffs, and national and international circumstances. Recent geopolitical events, and potential global economic challenges such as the risk of higher inflation and energy crises, may create further uncertainty and risk with respect to the prospects of the Company’s business.

These condensed consolidated interim financial statements do not include adjustments to the amounts and classifications of assets and liabilities and reported expenses that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern, which could be material.

Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Interim Financial Statements

For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025

(Unaudited – Expressed in Canadian Dollars Unless Otherwise Noted)

2. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Statement of compliance

These condensed consolidated interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IAS 34, Interim Financial Reporting and using accounting policies in full compliance with IFRS issued by the IASB, and accordingly, certain information and note disclosure included in the annual consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS have been omitted or condensed. These condensed consolidated interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's December 31, 2025, audited annual financial statements.

Basis of preparation

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis except for financial instruments measured at fair value. In addition, these consolidated financial statements have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting, except for cash flow information.

Basis of consolidation

These consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries as follows:

	Place of Incorporation	Principal Activity
Blue Sky Uranium Holdings Corp.	BC, Canada	Holding company
Minera Cielo Azul S.A. (Argentina)	Argentina	Exploration company
Desarrollo de Inversiones S.A. (Argentina)	Argentina	Exploration company
Viento de Oro S.A. de C.V. (Mexico)	Mexico	Exploration company

Inter-company balances and transactions, including unrealized income and expenses arising from inter-company transactions, are eliminated in preparing the condensed consolidated interim financial statements.

Subsidiaries are all entities (including structured entities) over which the group has control. The group controls an entity when the group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the group. They are deconsolidated from the date that control ceases.

Significant Accounting Estimates and Judgments

The preparation of these consolidated financial statements requires management to make certain estimates, judgments and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of expenses during the reporting period. Actual outcomes could differ from these estimates.

Blue Sky Uranium Corp.

Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Interim Financial Statements

For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025

(Unaudited – Expressed in Canadian Dollars Unless Otherwise Noted)

2. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

These consolidated financial statements include estimates which, by their nature, are uncertain. The impacts of such estimates are pervasive throughout the consolidated financial statements, and may require accounting adjustments based on future occurrences. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods. These estimates are based on historical experience, current and future economic conditions and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Significant assumptions about the future and other sources of estimation uncertainty that management has made at the financial position reporting date, that could result in a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities, in the event that actual results differ from assumptions made, relate to, but are not limited to, the following:

Critical accounting judgments

- i. Presentation of the consolidated financial statements which assumes that the Company will continue in operation for the foreseeable future, obtain additional financing as required, and will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of operations as they come due.
- ii. The analysis of the functional currency for each entity of the Company involves significant judgement by management. In concluding that the Canadian dollar is the functional currency of the parent and its subsidiary companies, management considered the currency that mainly influences the cost of providing goods and services in each jurisdiction in which the Company operates. As no single currency was clearly dominant the Company also considered secondary indicators including the currency in which funds from financing activities are denominated and the currency in which funds are retained.
- iii. The net carrying value of each mineral property is reviewed regularly for conditions that suggest impairment or a reversal of previously recorded impairment. This review requires significant judgment. Factors considered in the assessment of asset impairment include, but are not limited to, whether there has been a significant adverse change in the legal, regulatory, accessibility, title, environmental or political factors that could affect the property's value; whether there has been an accumulation of costs significantly in excess of the amounts originally expected for the property's acquisition, development or cost of holding; and whether exploration activities produced results that are not promising such that no more work is being planned in the foreseeable future. If impairment is determined to exist, a formal estimate of the recoverable amount is performed and an impairment loss is recognized to the extent that the carrying amount exceeds the recoverable amount.
- iv. The Company applied significant judgement in assessing the appropriate accounting treatment for its interests in Ivana Minerals S.A. ("JVCO") and the related shareholder, earn-in and option agreements entered into with Abatare Spain, S.L. ("COAM"). In determining whether the Company controls, jointly controls, or has significant influence over JVCO, the Company considered the substance of the contractual arrangements, including governance provisions, board composition, decision-making rights, funding obligations, and the rights of the parties during the various phases of the agreements. This assessment required judgement in identifying the activities that most significantly affect JVCO's returns and evaluating which party has the current ability to direct those activities. Although the Company holds a significant economic interest through a majority of the shares in JVCO, the Company concluded that it does not have control as defined in IFRS 10, as it does not have unilateral power to direct the relevant activities of JVCO, with decisions over the relevant activities of the JVCO being preliminary determined through the contractual agreements rather than voting rights.

Blue Sky Uranium Corp.

Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Interim Financial Statements

For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025

(Unaudited – Expressed in Canadian Dollars Unless Otherwise Noted)

2. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

The agreements also grant COAM staged earn-in rights to acquire an increased ownership interest in JVCO through the funding of exploration and development activities, subject to defined spending thresholds, corporate guarantees, and termination rights. There was no consideration paid to the Company on transfer of mineral property to JVCO and no gain/(loss) was recorded on the initial transfer after evaluation of the amount of initial retained interest in JVCO by the Company on the transfer. Management applied judgement in determining that the interest in JVCO should be accounted for as an investment in associate through the equity method. In applying the equity method Management applied judgement in evaluating the nature of the equity pick-up from JVCO arising from its arrangements with COAM. As COAM has sole responsibility for the initial funding commitments under the JVCO during the current phase of the earn-in arrangement, the Company applied judgement to determine that it is not responsible for funding losses of the JVCO during the current exploration and evaluation activities and accordingly the Company has not picked up losses beyond amounts applied to reduce the initial carrying value of the associate to a nominal amount. In accounting for the JVCO through the equity method Management applied judgment to determine the extent to which these arrangements result in financial assets, financial liabilities, or derivatives for JVCO. Contributions by COAM are accounted for by JVCO as financial liabilities based upon the contributions received until settled through the issuance of equity by JVCO – the resulting financial liabilities of JVCO for COAM contributions are not remeasured for changes in fair value as there is an absence of a determinable economic basis or observable inputs to reliably remeasure such amounts given the early-stage nature of the JVCO mineral properties and the preliminary stage of the earn-in and option arrangements.

Critical accounting estimate

- i. The Company is from time to time involved in pending or threatened litigation relating to claims arising in the ordinary course of its business. The nature and progression of litigation can make it difficult to predict the impact a particular lawsuit or claim will have on the Company.

New and amended IFRS standards that are effective for the current period:

On May 30, 2024, the IASB issued targeted amendments to IFRS 9 and IFRS 7 to respond to recent questions arising in practice, and to include new requirements not only for financial institutions but also for corporate entities. These amendments focus on areas such as the recognition and derecognition of financial assets and liabilities, the assessment of the “sole payments of principal and interest” criterion, and disclosures for instruments with contractual terms that can change cash flows, including those linked to ESG targets. The amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2026. This amendment did not have any impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements.

New Accounting Standards and Interpretations not yet effective

The following new standards, amendments and interpretations have been issued but are not effective for the fiscal six months ended June 30, 2026 and accordingly, they have not been applied in preparing these consolidated financial statements.

IFRS 18, Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements introduces three sets of new requirements to give investors more transparent and comparable information about companies’ financial performance for better investment decisions.

- i. Three defined categories for income and expenses—operating, investing and financing—to improve the structure of the income statement, and require all companies to provide new defined subtotals, including operating profit.

Blue Sky Uranium Corp.

Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Interim Financial Statements

For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025

(Unaudited – Expressed in Canadian Dollars Unless Otherwise Noted)

2. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

- ii. Requirement for companies to disclose explanations of management-defined performance measures (MPMs) that are related to the income statement.
- iii. Enhanced guidance on how to organize information and whether to provide it in the primary financial statements or in the notes.

This new standard is effective for reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2027, the Company is evaluating the impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

4. INVESTMENT IN ASSOCIATE (continued)

Shareholders' Agreement

The parties entered into a shareholders' agreement (the "Shareholders' Agreement") that will govern the relationship among the parties in respect of JVCO and the Property, including, among other things:

- a. the governance of JVCO and the management of the Property;
- b. the funding obligations of COAM and MCA in respect to JVCO and the Property;
- c. rights of first offer, share transfer restrictions, pre-emptive rights and tag-along rights in respect to the shares of JVCO; and
- d. if MCA's equity interest is diluted to less than 10%, there is an automatic surrender of MCA's interest in exchange for a 2% royalty on the Property.

On February 26, 2025, the MCA transferred certain rights to the Property to JVCO and optioned the remaining mineral rights, in exchange for 99.07% ownership interest in JVCO. Although the Company initially holds a majority of the economic ownership interest in JVCO, ownership interest alone does not determine control under IFRS. Control requires substantive rights that give the current ability to direct the activities that most significantly affect an investee's returns. Under the shareholders' and earn-in agreements, key value-driving activities of JVCO, including exploration programs, drilling strategy, feasibility studies, and decisions to advance or expand the project, are directed by COAM, owner of the remaining 0.93%, and COAM has board majority representation. While the Company retains board representation and approval rights over certain exceptional matters, these rights are protective in nature and do not provide the Company with the power to direct JVCO's relevant activities. Notwithstanding the absence of control, the Company retains board representation and participates in selected financial and operating policy decisions, providing the Company with significant influence. Accordingly, the Company accounts for its interest in JVCO as an investment in associate using the equity method (see also Note 2).

The investment was initially recognized at the cost of the mineral property interests transferred to JVCO with a carrying value of $25,000. The Company also capitalized $645,000 in financial advisory fees it paid in connection with the transaction (see Note 11). During the year ended December 31, 2025, the Company's share of JVCO's loss exceeded the carrying value of the investment in associate. The Company recognized a loss on investment in associate of $669,999 and reduced the investment in associate carrying value to the nominal value of $1.

The continuity of the Company's investment in associate for the six months ended June 30, 2026, and year ended December 31, 2025 is as follows:

	June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Balance, beginning of period	$ 1	$ -
Mineral property interests transferred to investment in associate	-	25,000
Transaction costs	-	645,000

Other comprehensive loss	$ (60,036)	$ 24,146

As the Company is not responsible for funding the JVCO during the initial term of the earn-in arrangement with COAM it ceased to recognize the losses after the application of losses eliminated the carrying value of the investment in associate. JVCO recognizes contributions from COAM under the earn-in option arrangement as financial liabilities until the liabilities are settled through the issuance of shares by JVCO.

Call Option Agreement

JVCO and MCA also entered into a call option agreement (the “Call Option Agreement”) whereby MCA will grant JVCO the exclusive right and option (the “Call Option”) to acquire 100% of MCA’s undivided registered and beneficial interest in part of certain exploration targets owned by MCA (the “Exploration Targets”), subject to:

(i) JVCO incurring minimum annual expenditure amounts at the Exploration Targets during the six-year term of the Call Option;

9. MARKETABLE SECURITIES

From time to time, the Company may acquire and transfer marketable securities to facilitate intragroup funding transfers between the Canadian parent and its Argentine operating subsidiaries. The Company does not acquire marketable securities and engage in these transactions for speculative purposes. In this regard, under this strategy, the Company generally uses marketable securities of large and well-established companies with high trading volumes and low volatility. Nonetheless, as the process to acquire, transfer and ultimately sell the marketable securities occurs over several days, some fluctuations are unavoidable. As the marketable securities are acquired with the intention of a near term sale, they are considered financial instruments that are held for trading, all changes in the fair value of the instruments between acquisition and disposition are recognized through profit or loss. The subsequent disposition of these marketable securities in exchange for Argentine pesos gave rise to a gain as the amount received in Argentine peso exceeds the amount of Argentine peso the Company would have received from a direct foreign currency exchange.

The Company acquired and transferred no marketable securities for intragroup funding for the six months ended June 30, 2026 (June 30, 2025 – realized gain of $25,123) from the favorable foreign currency impact as a result of having utilized this mechanism for intragroup funding.

14. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

The Company thoroughly examines the various financial instrument risks to which it is exposed and assesses the impact and likelihood of those risks. These risks may include credit risk, liquidity risk, currency risk, and interest rate risk. Where material, these risks are reviewed and monitored by the Board of Directors.

(a) Fair Values

The Company’s financial instruments recorded at fair value require disclosure about how the fair value was determined based on significant levels of inputs described in the following hierarchy:

Level 1 - Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical assets or liabilities as of the reporting date. Active markets are those in which transactions occur in sufficient frequency and value to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.

Level 2 - Pricing inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets included in Level 1. Prices in Level 2 are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date. Level 2 valuations are based on inputs including quoted forward prices for commodities, time value and volatility factors, which can be substantially observed or corroborated in the marketplace.

Level 3 - Valuations in this level are those with inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data.

The Company's financial instruments consist of cash and cash equivalents, marketable securities, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and loans payable. Cash and cash equivalents, and marketable securities are measured at fair value through profit or loss using level 1 inputs.

14. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT (continued)

(b) Financial Instrument Risk Exposure

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will fail to discharge an obligation and cause the other party to incur a financial loss. Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to credit risk consist of cash and cash equivalents. The Company has reduced its credit risk by depositing its cash and short-term investments with financial institutions that operate globally. Therefore, the Company is not exposed to significant credit risk and the Company's overall credit risk has not changed significantly from the prior year.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Company has in place a planning and budgeting process to help determine the funds required to ensure the Company has the appropriate liquidity to meet its operating and growth objectives. The Company has historically relied on issuance of shares and warrants to fund exploration programs and may require doing so again in the future. See Note 1 for further information.

Market risk

(i) Currency risk

Financial instruments that impact the Company's net earnings due to currency fluctuations include: cash, and accounts payable all denominated in United States dollars and Argentinean pesos. A 10% change in US dollar and the Argentinean peso exchange rates relative to Canadian dollar would have insignificant impact on the Company's net loss:

- A 10% change in the US dollar exchange rate relative to the Canadian dollar would change the Company's net loss by approximately $100.
- A 10% change in the Argentinean peso exchange rate relative to the Canadian dollar would change the Company's net loss by approximately $15,000.

(ii) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates. The fair value of cash and cash equivalents approximates its carrying value due to the immediate or short-term maturity of this financial instrument. Other current financial assets and liabilities are not exposed to interest rate risk because they are non-interest bearing or have prescribed interest rates.

(c) Capital Management

The Company's objectives of capital management are intended to safeguard the entity's ability to support the Company's normal operating requirements on an ongoing basis, continue the development and exploration of its mineral properties and support any expansionary plans. The capital structure of the Company consists of equity attributable to common shareholders, comprised of issued capital, reserves and deficit. The Company manages the capital structure and makes adjustments in light of changes in economic conditions and the risk characteristics of the Company's assets.

14. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT (continued)

To effectively manage the entity's capital requirements, the Company has in place a planning and budgeting process to help determine the funds required to ensure the Company has the appropriate liquidity to meet its operating and growth objectives. The Company has historically relied on issuance of shares to develop its mineral projects and may require doing so again in the future. The Company is monitoring market conditions to secure funding at the lowest cost of capital. The Company is exposed to various funding and market risks which could curtail its access to funds. The Company is not subject to any external covenants. There were no changes in the Company's approach to capital management during the six months ended June 30, 2026.
